Intelligent design allows Altus to offer the modern office a truly versatile workspace ranging from private offices, traditional open plan spaces through to collaborative areas.

Using minimal componentry Altus gives the highest level of functionality, resulting in ease of build enhanced with simple detailing.

The Altus system is based around a 'post and screen' concept. This provides both strength and stability that are hallmarks of the range. Altus incorporates detailed design features such as polished, die cast aluminium connectors.

By specifying various heights of post and screen open-plan or divisional work zones can be created. Screens are available in fabric, acrylic and dry-wipe whiteboard options.

Cable management comes from easy to fit clip-on cable trays that can be specified in varying quantities to be suit your needs.

Easily accessorised, Altus can also be specified with slatwall rails in the screen making it a robust solution for mounting large and heavy monitors and shelves for filing.
