The look of bespoke with the ease of a standard product

Of all the products in the evolution® range it is perhaps evolution® elite that is the most surprising. This superb quality design offers real top end features such as stainless steel claw upright counter supports with integral up and down LED lighting as standard. The result is a truly stunning reception desk solution that can regularly match a bespoke solution on quality but can often be ordered straight off the page with a single product code.

Clearly the premier range within the evolution portfolio, evolution® elite will create the perfect dramatic impression in your reception area scheme. The combination of bold shapes and shear surfaces is delicately balanced with the subtlety of the crisp inlay banding which breaks up the facade. This beautifully conceived styling allows evolution® elite to deliver a level of design excellence previously unattainable in a standard product.

"This was a huge desk, and I'm very pleased with how the project went. What I like about dealing with Clarke Rendall is that they do exactly as they are asked. If ask for a quote - I get a quote, If I tell them I'm in a hurry, I get it quickly"

"Wow! what an impressive reception desk"

CEO, West Kent College

Like all evolution® products, evolution® elite was also conceived with an eye on the possibilities of customisation. Already highly impressive as a standard product, the potential for evolution® elite to answer more complex and demanding briefs is clear to see.

This may be a superb premium quality reception desk solution suited for a host of applications, but be in no doubt - it is also, always a highly practical, functional and durable solution to many a difficult and taxing list of requirements.

"When I order a desk from Clarke Rendall, I know it's going to be good, and the quality will be excellent"
